Graduate School of Law School

Educational Objectives

Educational objectives that reflect the purpose of the new system of legal education and training.

The Ajou Law School has established the following educational objectives in its pursuit of cultivating lawyers with sound professional ethics and expertise in legal dispute resolution:

Lawyers Advocating	Lawyers Promoting	Lawyers Displaying
Justice and Services	Creativity and Innovation	International Capability
A lawyer who: -Attends to social minorities and underprivileged people -Performs all duties and responsibilities of the society -Possesses a balanced perspective	A lawyer who: -Thinks outside the box -Becomes a pioneer in a new area of legal profession -Resolves legal disputes along with management problems	A lawyer who: -Speaks foreign languages fluently -Possesses ample knowledge of foreign laws and legal systems -Resolves international legal disputes
↓	↓	↓

"Cultivation of lawyers with sound professional ethics and expertise in legal dispute resolution"

Article 2 of 「Act on the Establishment and Operation of Law School」

Academics and practice theory of teaching and researching reflected in the educational objectives of the Ajou Law School

The Ajou Law School is strongly committed to not only informing students about relevant legal knowledge, but also providing more comprehensive professional education of both theory and practice that can be readily applied in real life.

Legal Education in Theory and Practice

	Participating in curriculum courses such as 'Philosophy of Lawyers Advocating	Law', 'Laws and Ethics' and Justice and Services	courses on human rights, as well as pro bono legal services as extracurricular activities Lawyers Promoting Creativity and Innovation	Providing advanced courses such as 'Act on Protection of Technology of Small and Medium-sized Businesses' and 'Law and High-tech Industry', and practical legal training through business counseling of corporate legal affairs
Lawyers Displaying International Capability	Instilling an international mindset with academic theories on the legal structure of international society and international protection of intellectual property, and operating international joint degree programs to produce international lawyers	